ABSTRACT

This directory contains the names of educators and paraprofessionals who might be of help in the education of newly arrived Vietnamese refugees in the United States. The criteria for selection of the individual educators were: (1) the educator has taught, or was trained to teach, in Vietnam or Cambodia; (2) the educator has some special expertise, such as training in applied linguistics, ESL, or bilingual education, which would make him or her a useful resource for schools which have numbers of limited- or non-English speaking refugees; or (3) the educator has some special resource, talent, or technical assistance ability that could be put to immediate use by school districts. In some instances individuals were included who, while they might at present be difficult to credential as teachers, could serve as paraprofessionals or teacher assistants. The educators are listed alphabetically by surname, followed by the following information: address; telephone; birthplace; birth year; sex; citizenship; languages; degrees; universities; specializations; credentials; relevant experience; availability; and administrative, technical assistance, translation, resource, and research capabilities. PREFACE

The Center for Applied Linguistics, a non-profit Ford Foundation-supported national center for the application of linguistic research, has responded to the urgent need created by the immigration of thousands of Vietnamese to this country by developing the present material for use by the refugees and others working with them. It is our hope that this material will contribute to bridging the language and cultural barrier, and help the refugees to take their place as new members of American society.

INTRODUCTION

The following information compiled by the CENTER FOR APPLIED LINGUISTICS in order to meet the crisis brought upon the Nation's educational system by the rapid influx of expatriates from Vietnam and elsewhere in Indochina. The directory is by no means exhaustive, but represents the greatest amount of information which could be collected, analyzed, and compiled in time to be available to school districts during the summer of 1975.

The criteria for selection of the individual educators who appear in this directory were:

(1) the educator has taught, or was trained to teach, in Vietnam or Cambodia, or

(2) the educator has some special expertise, such as training in applied linguistics or in the teaching of English as a second language, or in bilingual-bicultural education, which would make him or her a useful resource for schools which have numbers of limited- or non-English speaking refugees, or

(3) the educator has some special resource, talent, or technical assistance ability that could be put to immediate use by school districts, e.g., bilingual-bicultural education specialist, psychologist, curriculum development expert, translator, teacher trainer, data control specialist, simultaneous interpreter, etc.

In some instances individuals were included who, while they might at present be difficult to credential as teachers owing to lack of professional preparation, could serve as paraprofessionals or teacher assistants until they could complete the requirements for more formal teacher licensing.

The information given in this directory has been provided by the individuals themselves and CAL can accept no responsibility for its accuracy. Because of rapidly changing conditions, some of the information may already be outdated at this time, particularly information on the addresses of refugee personnel. Owing to the very tight time constraints under which this directory was compiled, many individuals were undoubtedly missed whose names might have been included here. CAL will continue to collect resumes, however, with a view to issuing a supplementary directory if one should seem justified. Interested persons are invited to send their resumes to the Center for Applied Linguistics, 1611 North Kent Street, Arlington, VA 22209.

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

1. Names

The individual educators' names listed in this directory will appear alphabetically by surname. They will appear in normal order, e.g., James A. SMITH or NGUYEN Thanh Quang. Notice that the surname is capitalized. It is important to be able to recognize the surname because Vietnamese surnames invariably occur first in normal order, unless the person has changed to the American pattern of placing surnames last.

Another difference in Vietnamese and American practices which can be confusing is that Vietnamese do not use their surnames when referring to one another. In the examples above, the equivalent of Mr. Smith, for the Vietnamese educator would be Mr. Quang (his given name) and not Mr. Nguyen (his surname). In communicating with an individual, therefore, it is desirable to inquire as to which name is his surname and which name he customarily employs in referring to himself.

Four Points to Remember

(1) In this directory surnames are always capitalized.

(2) Names are listed in their normal order.

(3) Normal order for Americans is given name + middle name + surname.

(4) Normal order for Vietnamese is surname + given name.

2. Key to Numerical Categories

The following numbers will appear below the name of each educator listed in this directory. By referring to this code you will easily be able to interpret the information. A blank space indicates that no information was available for that particular item.

Item #1 = Address; telephone

Item #2 = Birthplace; birthyear; sex; citizenship; languages (native language appears first)

Item #3 = Degrees; universities; specializations; credentials

Item #4 = Relevant experience

Item #5 = Availability (dates, places)

Item #6 = Administrative, technical assistance, translation, resource, and research capabilities

3. Specialization

After the name of the educator the relevant specialization of the individual is given in capital letters, e.g., ELEMENTARY, SECONDARY, ADULT, TRANSLATOR, ADMINISTRATOR, ESL, etc. This should help in making quick identification of specialization without having to read through the entire abstract.
